

Letter from the Editor

Dear Readers and Authors:

The Acta Societatis Botanicorum Poloniae is changing! You can see it in the journal being moved online this year, in the growing list of systems indexing it, which means that it started functioning in a global network of scientific communication. A new electronic system allowing publishing the articles online, prior to their appearance in print, but above all the young, energetic and enthusiastic team of very dedicated and professional Associate Editors guarantee that the time from submission to print will be much shorter.

The new graphics of the present cover is another symptom of these changes. But not yet the content. We still publish the articles that have been accepted for publication last year. Our major goal is to increase the scientific level of the journal, to raise quickly its Impact Factor, to make it one of the most important periodics in plant science in this part of Europe. To do this we need your help. This is the call for substantial and significant contributions to the journal. We can make it much better together!
